

Reem Mougheith

Regional Humanitarian Representative for the Middle East and North Africa, Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF)

Prior joining the MSF, I have had over 13 years of experience in the humanitarian sector, I have been working with the ICRC for more than 9 years. I have been employed in several regions and continents and with no doubt the focus was on the Middle East, a region that I call home. I have worked in Cambodia, Lebanon, Syria (Homs/Hama/ Hassake), Nigeria, Iraq, Jordan, Somalia and Kenya.

My domain of expertise is Protection (IHL) and Operations Management.

I have graduated from the British University in Egypt with Bachelor of Political Science as a major and Economics as a minor, later on I pursued my master's degree in international law and human rights from the University for Peace in Costa Rica.
